A FREE OFFER TO WEAK MEN HAPPENINGS IN ILLINOIS

The Great English Remedy for Debilitated Men, the Sir John Hampton Vital Restorative, May Be Tested Free by Every Man in Need of Treatment and Who Is Earnestly Seeking a Cure.

VERY Weak Man wants a cure, and he wants it just as quickly as possible. You do not care to be continually spending your money for and taking medicine to Re-store your Manly Power and Vigor which does you no good. The Sir John Hampton Vital Restorative will not only return to you that power which should be pos-sed by all men, but will put your entire system-Sexual, Mental and Physical-in a state of absolute Manly Perfection. This is a very broad claim, I know, but I have fully cured so many men who had lost their HOLY NAME TO BE RENOVATED. Interior of Edifice Now Presents Rich Appearance.

The work of renovating the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus, No. 2041 East Grand ue, which has been in progress for the last six weeks, is almost completed. The interior has been freecoed, in shades of soft sea green, with an arch around the nin altar in a deeper hue. The same dark shade sets off the rich panel decorations of the walls and ceiling. Above the altar is painted the angel of the censor.

New stained glass windows have replaced the old ones. They were donated by the the old ones. They were donated by the various sodalities of the church, and by individual members of the parish, as memorials. The windows are of opales-cat glass, with an artistic decoration of illies and a large ruby cross in the center, surmounted by different emblems of the church. The colors are alternating amber and pink.

The members of the Married Ladies' Sodality have provided a new wilton carpet for the sanctuary steps. It is a dark green shade. Cork matting for the aisles has been provided by the Young Ladica' Sodality, which contributed $500.

The altars are painted in white and gold, with a tracery of gold leaf, which shows to the best advantage on the Gothic spires, and the grapes and wheat which adorn the tebernacle. The painting of the statues for the altars, and those on each side of the main altar, is not finished. They will also be of white and gold.

The stations of the cross are also being retouched. The pews have been done over in quartered oak. New chandeliers, both for gas and electricity, are being put in. The pipe organ will be cenewed and the choir gallery repainted and refitted. The school building is also being renovated and equipped.

A solemn high mass will be colerated.

DOCTOR MACARTHUR HAS TWO DAYS AT CHAUTAUQUA.

Tells Interesting Story of the Louisiann Purchase in a Lecture in the Tabernacie.

Chautauqua pulpit. The topic this afternoon was "The Story of the Louisiana Purchase."

Doctor MacArthur told the story for the most part from the French point of view. This view, he said, is comparantively little known in America. In speaking of the part that President Jefferson is supposed here-tofore to have taken in the purchase, roctor MacArthur said that Jefferson had virtually nothing to do with the transaction until the purchase was made." Doctor MacArthur said, "Jefferson declared that it reduced the Constitution to wast-paper and that an ameridment to the Constitution would be necessary to make the purchase legal. Jefferson afterwards changed his opinion on this point, however."

"The Nineteenth Century has been marked by the wonderul growth of several countries," continued Doctor MacArthur. "During that period Russig added nearly 3,000,000 square miles to her territorial area, and she multiplied her population by four.

"When the century opened Great Britain had an area of less than 2,000,000 square miles, but when the century closed her area was nearly 12,000,000 square miles. A statistical flend has shown us that with every tick of the watch during the Nineteenth Century. Britain added two acres to her national domain, and increased her population from 115,000,000 square miles. A statistical flend has shown us that with every tick of the watch during the Nineteenth Century Britain added two acres to her national domain, and increased her population from 115,000,000 square miles. A statistical flend has shown in the century closed we had a population of over 16,000,000.

"About the time when the century closed we had a population of over 16,000,000. Expansion has been the unvarying policy of the United States during its entire history. LAKE TUG ON MISSISSIPPI.

This heavy-draft large steamer John F. May has been successfully taken from Chicago down the Mississippi to Baton Rouge, without grounding or experiencing any difficulty.

Captain Tom Garrison and Engineer Thomas St John of St. Louis returned from Baton Rouge yesterday, where they had delivered their craft. The May is a heavy lake steamer, which formerly ran from Chicago to Milwaukee.

She draws ten feet, light, and when it was proposed to take her South on the Mississippi River the Idea was accounted by many St. Louis steamboatmen. She is probably the deepest draft steamer which ever has been in the river above St. Louis.
